

Provincial Authorities Reject Pool Filter

At their meeting Dec. 20th, St. Albert Town Council was required to shell out an additional $2,159 - for installation of a swimming pool filter which could meet Provincial Health standards. The filter which Consulting Engineer Rekken had originally planned to install could not get Government approval. Councillor Parkes "let his fingers do the walking" all over the U.S.A. and Canada as he made a dozen or so long distance phone calls. But the fact that this particular type of filter is used, and found extremely easy to operate, from Simon Fraser University to the Ottawa Y.M.C.A. and all the way down to Georgia, U.S.A. cuts no ice with the government officials in Alberta, who turned thumbs down on it. Mr. Rekken came in for a bit of criticism too. It was felt that Mr. Rekken who is supposedly an expert on swimming pools, should have checked on this equipment a bit more thoroughly.

we should get the University here?," he asked. He also expressed concern that basement suites would be springing up all over Town. Mayor Fowler explained that the man's fears that the Campus would be located in the centre of Town were unfounded, as the two possible sites are well removed from the Town. The Mayor asked "Would you rather have a 150 foot smoke stack Industrial Development could bring, or the high class residential development a University faculty would bring." After the man was assured that the Town has zoning by-laws to regulate basement suites and that the University would probably supply its own housing, he left, satisfied that a University for St. Albert would not be such a bad idea after all.

COUNCIL BRIEFS:

Councillor Bakker requested that a special meeting be held at the end of January to review Recreation Policies for the Town. Councillor Gibbon felt that a decision on a Recreation Board should also be made at that time.

Mr. Gibbon referred to the new Bus schedule which has been in effect for the past few weeks. Sundays and Holidays feature only 2 trips into St. Albert. "Is this sufficient", asked Mr. Gibbon. Mr. Wheating will get in touch with the Bus Company.

Reports from every side indicate that the Centennial Ball was a wonderful lead-off into the special New Year of 1967 and promises well for a host of Centennial celebrations to come in St. Albert. Part of the capacity crowd is pictured during the earlier part of the evening at Club Mocombo.

Kinsmen announce Centennial project

A service project, to be launched during the Centennial Year involving an ultimate expenditure in excess of $10,000, was announced by G. D. (Doug) Stewart President of the St. Albert Kinsmen Club. The Announcement followed formal approval of the plans by the Club's membership at a recent general meeting.

In the tradition of Kinsmen Clubs across Canada, the project committee sought a proposal which would best serve the community's most immediate need. After consultation with the town's administration, it was agreed that the providing of playground facilities for the tiny tots should receive priority on the list of suggested projects.

The formalized plans, as approved, include the purchasing and installation, on various lots designated by the town, such equipment as swings, slides, climbers, sandboxes, etc. Where necessary the Club will also erecting. Funds which will be allocated to the project are raised through Kinsmen campaigns within the Community, such as Peanut Night the sale of fertilizer and the recently established St. Albert Kinsmen Rodeo.

MAYOR'S COLUMN

January 4th, 1966.

HAPPY NEW YEAR! Let us hope it'll be a year of progress advancement for St. Albert district. Let us not only HO for it but let's work for it.

It will undoubtedly be a wonderful year as far as Centennial Celebrations and projects are concerned and those of us that attended official Centennial Ball on New Year's Eve are likely to have a very enjoyable and festive evening ahead of us. There something thought that continues to gnaw at me as we enter the opening days of 1967.

That is the very obvious ten acres of vacant land on the North Hill, the title of which is (or should be) held by the Sturgeon Hospital District No. 100. The Sturgeon Hospital Board was authorized by Order-in-Council of the Provincial Government in June of 1965 - 19 months ago.

We have now entered 1967 and still we don't even have a decision as to the site of the hospital. This is not to indicate that the Board cannot make up its mind.

On the contrary. We have completed a Programme Study which proved the District requires a hospital facility of no less than 150 beds. The Department of Health, however, have advised the Board that we must build a 50 bed hospital only. This advice was received in October of 1966 at which time the Board decided to meet once more with Dr. Donovan Ross, Minister of Health, in an attempt to acquire a larger facility. Since October to the present time it has been impossible for our Board to meet with Dr. Ross. I realize that the Minister is likely to be busy rather than up but my responsibility is to St. Albert residents and I am honestly beginning to feel that my time can be better spent on projects other than the Hospital Board.

At least I can get to see any other Minister and the Government I need to be in contact with the Town's affairs. There is another item regarding the hospital which frustrates me to end, and that is the matter of design. Our instructions from the Government are that we are to proceed with a 50 bed hospital built on the Standard Government Plan. Are we to believe here have been no improvements in Hospital Design over the past five or more years - or are we to believe that a facility which may be suitable for "Jim Buck Too" would automatically be suitable for the Sturgeon District? I suggest we can believe neither. And where is the consistency in government thinking? While Dr. Ross' department insists on Standard Plan the Minister of Education's department makes no such demands at all - resulting in a new design for almost every school built in Alberta, and God knows by how many times schools outnumber hospitals. I am confused and frustrated - notwithstanding the admirable efforts of our M.L.A. - still no meeting. The thought of resigning from the Board is not a foreign one.

I can be convinced that a 50 bed unit is right (if such is the case) without being hard headed about it - but to one will convince me that three months are necessary to see a Minister of the Crown, or the Standard Plans can result in the ultimate in hospital design and function.

St. Albert project starts new year right

To give their Birthday Card for Canada a special launching into 1967 on New Year's Day the S.W. Sutherland family decided a simple ceremony at the Youville Home would be fitting for St. Albert, home of the card. The wholehearted cooperation of Sister Superior in assisting with the arrangements for the patients to learn about the card and begin signing it, made the afternoon a happy and successful one.

The Birthday Card was planned by Mrs. Sutherland and her family to give as many Canadians as possible the opportunity of helping children in need. The card, as a personal contribution to their country's Centennial Celebrations, dedication for the Canadian Save The Children Fund is made with every signature on the card. The following day, Monday, CB

XT Television station visited the Home and made a film record of a number of the patients signing the card. Sister S. Mageau graciously directed guests and explained the Sutherland's project in both English and French, to the patients. First to sign Monday was Mrs. Ethel Boileau, followed by Mrs. Mary McCool, in 1912, was the first nursing graduate from the Edmonton General Hospital. She is now retired and has been at the Youville Home for a year. Several members of the St. Albert Centennial Committee, Sister Mageau, Mrs. Berthe Godout, a three-year resident and other patients were filmed with the card. The station presented the first showing of this film following the 11:55 p.m. news on Monday evening.

Mrs. Sutherland constructed the card with the idea of uniting Canadians as individuals working together to help others. The week-end's small ceremonies brought together the past and present, as pioneers of Canada joined today's working generation with interest and enthusiasm to help orphaned, starving children to a brighter future.

If the Birthday Card can cross Canada and generate this enthusiasm in many places with many people, the Sutherlands feel it will be a success, and more than repay them for the work and time they are putting into the project.

The card, covered with the Maple Leaf tartan and decorated with the provincial emblems, is beautifully designed. Inside, the Prayer of St. Francis, adapted to a Canadian theme, is hand painted in both English and French. The card will spend Centennial year travelling across Canada collecting signatures, and will probably, on its return here, find a permanent home in the Centennial Museum now under construction in Edmonton.

In the months ahead they will be working towards reaching as many Canadians as possible the Birthday Card. First comes St. Albert and all residents who have not done so have a chance to sign this. You may sign it at Safeway Store, Thursday or Friday evening or on Saturday from 1:00 to 9:00 p.m. The community St. Albert will want to sign this Birthday Card for Canada on its way with the grand boost possible - to set enthusiastic example for other centres across our country. In February the Card will be available for signing at the Westmount Mall during Varsity Weekend.

St. Albert to hear Bob Clark

Alberta Youth Minister Bob Clark will speak to the January meeting of the St. Albert Council Knights of Columbus, on Jan. 25th, when a large turnout is expected.

Brother David Rooke had to vacate his position as Activities Chairman where he did an excellent job, due to a recent transfer to Evansburg with the R.C.M.P. Brother Roger Montpetit of 53 Mission Avenue has replaced him in this post.

Centennial ideas many and varied

THE ST. ALBERT CENTENNIAL SINGERS:

Mrs. Stu Rindero called to tell us about the newly formed Barber Shop Chorus. At present the male chorus has 10 members, but the idea is catching on and new members are wanting to join. Stu said the group so far has "gone out and sung for their supper" and has gone Carolling over the Christmas Holidays. The St. Albert Centennial Singers are very fortunate in having Mr. Ed Arklie as their director. Ed was formerly with the Winnipeg Philharmonic. Stu also mentioned a lot of credit is due to Cliff and Leona Arendahl. Mrs. Arendahl hopes to start a Ladies Chorus soon. If you would like to become a "Barber Shopper" why not give Stu Rindero a call at 599-6204.

CHRISTMAS IN JULY?

Looking out our front window at all the bright colorful lights decorating so many homes, the thought came to us... why take them down? Why not "light up for Centennial" and keep your Christmas lights on all year to celebrate our Country's Birthday? Or if the budget can't stand the extra on the power bill lights could be turned on on Holidays Dominion Day etc.

Ball a great success

A sell-out crowd of 200 danced in the New Year at St. Albert's Club Mocono. The Centennial Ball co-sponsored by the Centennial Committee and the St. Albert Chamber of Commerce was a "smashing success."

FORMAL RECEPTION:

The evening began at 9:00 p.m. with a formal reception line headed by Mayor and Mrs. R. Fowler, Chamber President Jim and Mrs. Byrne, Centennial Committee Chairman Don and Mrs. Hunt and Master of Ceremonies Roy and Mrs. Gilley. CORSAGES:

Miss Centennial pinned a rose corsage on each lady as the couples entered the reception line and the couples were escorted to a reserved table by a lady from the Ball Committee.

Chamber President Jim Byrne said "the food was good, the music superb and this will go down as the best New Year's party we've had." Centennial Chairman Don Hunt commented "it was a truly wonderful way to welcome in Canada's Centennial Year and I know that we have many more functions to come that will be a lot of good fun for all." Centennial Ball Chairman Bob Russell praised everyone who pitched in to make the Ball a success and said "This was really a New Year's Party for St. Albert and I think we should do it again next year."

Sister Superior Gertrude Tetrault and Mayor Richard Fowler two well known community leaders give early support to the Sutherland family's Centennial project, in aid of the Save the Children Fund. Sister Superior was photographed at the Youville Home Sunday, making the donation which accompanied her signature of the Canada Birthday Card. MAN'S VIEW POINT.
by Robert Russell.

We are all wondering just how the hospital development is going. As a member of the committee that met with the Minister of Health and received a commitment for a hospital for St. Albert for 1966, I am disappointed that construction wasn't started last spring. Construction costs are going up and the need is greater than ever before.

While we realized that a 50 bed unit was an absolute minimum, we also know that that was better than getting along with no hospital at all for 20,000 persons in this district.

Provided sufficient land was obtained for a site, the 50 bed unit could eventually be used as an auxiliary wing when the town grew to the point where we could justify a 200 bed hospital.

We are still only minutes away from an Edmonton hospital and we would continue to use their special services for some time to come no matter how large a hospital we built here. What we do need is a small unit to handle emergencies, maternity cases, minor operation, lab services and outpatient service. Our own doctors could function more effectively and our town would be better served.

Let's quit empire building and get on with the job.

Kindergarten delights audience

The 18 pre-schoolers, members of Notre Dame Jardin D'Enfance School, Morinville, under their director, Sister Marie Anne Therese, F.d.e., delighted an audience of some 70 parents and grandparents with their Christmas Concert.

For the first time the kindergarten concert was audited in the Thibault School auditorium last Sunday, and only those who missed it cannot appreciate the talent and versatility of rendition by the very young children, ranging from four to six years.

They were introduced each in turn by their young excellent teacher and each little personality delighted the audience with his own personal greetings.

Suzanne Riopel, Cecile Ricard and Nicole Tellier proved capable announcers as well as entertainers.

A very colourful grouping entitled "Salute to the Flag", a skit "The Story of Christmas" and a sing-song "Sur le Pont d'A vignon" were among the highlights of the programme.

Yvon Charest, proved his acting ability, as the main character in a humorous skit entitled "Monkey Business."

Glen Tremblay made his public debut with a french speech.

Jean-Marie Dostie was the feature star in another short skit.

Miss Lilian Morin & Phillippe Olivier explained the functions of nose, ears, tongue and mouth.

Miss Linda Rousseau, accompanied a couple of numbers on the piano, while the small people sang and marched.

The 23 numbers on the programme, displayed a variety of characters, Babe in the Manger, The Holy Family, Soldiers, Shepherds, Inn Keepers, Angels Farmers, Bakers, Sailors, Ladies in grand fashion, and gents in top hats. All were part of ever changing scenes and the props were very colourful and the timing was precise, as each performed on cue.

It was a delightful afternoon concert, and the following young budding artists are responsible for a star performance last Sunday.

St. Albert Settlement 88 Years Ago

This sketch plan of a traverse of the settlement of St. Albert, N.W.T., was drawn by Dominion Land Surveyor A.F. King and dated April 29th, 1878. From this preliminary sketch surveyor King would complete the formal plans in Ottawa to be authorized the following year.

The river lots running back from the river in long narrow allotments are filled in with the named of the settlers ("squatters") occupying them at the time of the survey. All existing buildings are also identified (in extremely small print not reproduced here) with the owner's name, or such notation as "unfinished house", "house occupied by an Indian", "Ruins of a stable", "Mission Wash House" and "Storehouses."

Many of the lot owners names will still be recognized as St. Albert family names.

The Sturgeon River is marked out from South to North and the old St. Albert Trail is shown cutting through the Mission property from right, and winding across the river over the old bridge (right centre) towards the Roman Catholic Church. A fork in the trail in front of the church site leads to the north or south. This artery is the present St. Vital Avenue. Extending from upper right would be today's Hermitage Farm. The present Bruin Inn would be located to the right and somewhat south of the bridge.

The original sketch reduced and reproduced here was loaned to the Gazette by Mr. George Walker of 26 Balmoral Drive.

How much do we know about St. Albert 100 years ago?

How many people were living here in 1867?
How would a letter be addressed to reach St. Albert?
Where was Father Lacombe January 1st, 1867?
Were there any white women at St. Albert in 1867?
Were the Indians peaceful?
Was Edmonton a bigger settlement than St. Albert?
When did the R.C.M.P. come to St. Albert?

The answers to a host of questions such as those above are a subject of consuming interest to quite a few people, including Mr. Jim Drysdale of 45 Grosvenor Blvd.

The history of our community is a topic which has for sometime excited the interest and imagination of Mr. Drysdale and as our Centennial year approached he began to focus this interest on a Centennial project. His particular aim is to gather and research as much material as he possibly can to put together a picture of St. Albert as it was 100 years ago.

The Centennial Committee have accepted this project and would welcome the enquiries of people on other historical projects. There is a wealth of sources for Jim to draw from and many organizations and individuals have helped. One source of information is the archives of the Oblate Fathers and Father Emile Tardiff is interested in the project.

Descendants of the early settlers in St. Albert could contribute to the store of knowledge of ways of everyday life and perhaps some fascinating pictures as well. Some of the descendants of families whose names appear on the sketch shown above may be interested in this Centennial project. Their telephone calls or letters would be warmly welcomed. Anyone with any information, old documents, letters, photos or paintings is invited to get in touch with the Centennial Committee by telephoning 599-6776 or writing to P.O. Box 67, St. Albert. Mr. George Walker is one resident who has already expressed his keen interest in the project and offered his help.

The Gazette was pleased to learn of Mr. Drysdale's plan and will make regular space available during 1967 to present as complete a record as possible of the material assembled. Articles for the series will be run from such sources as the Alberta Historical Review and the Glenbow Foundation.

Centennial year is a good time for our young people, who quite rightly are usually looking ahead, to take a look back, and we hope they will find this an interesting project. Perhaps some of them will join their elders in looking for answers to the intriguing questions above. From time to time we may run more such quizzes and see how many little-known bits of information our readers may come up with.

livered an inspiring sermon.

The New Year was ushered in with the carillon ringing in the New Year. Many old folks and babysitters with children awakened when the fire alarm was sounded at midnight did not appreciate this extranoise, made for the pleasure of a few. Fire alarms should be sounded only in case of need, at any time, according to many who were disturbed for no good reason. Especially the old folks and shut ins who are fearful of fire.

Here is a New Year's resolution for everyone to follow: "I am a Canadian, A free Canadian, free to speak without fear, free to worship God in my own way, free to stand for what I think right, free to oppose what I believe wrong, free to choose those who shall govern my country, administer the affairs of my town, and the school where my children are educated. THIS HERITAGE OF FREEDOM I PLEDGE TO UPHOLD FOR MYSELF AND ALL MANKIND.

Many family reunions and friendly visits were exchanged during the Yuletide season.

Thibault board will fight

In the fast moving 20th Century, to fail to keep pace with progress is to court mediocrity.

The problem of keeping pace with progress is now facing the board of trustees of Thibault Roman Catholic Public School District No. 35 at Morinville.

The trustees feel they have a solution. It may mean treading on a few toes, but it is a step they are determined to take.

Next term they will throw open the doors of Thibault to all students, Catholic or Protestant, in the Sturgeon School Division without the rider of tuition fees from parents.

"We are involved in a fight for survival," says board chairman Leon Riopel. "What are we to do? Sit back and let our system die? We can't do that. We are all convinced of that, so we will fight."

"Thibault has a total enrolment of 445. It will be years before there will be any appreciable growth if we continue to draw students only from our district. Thibault won't be able to provide the facilities demanded today.

"We owe it to our students to give them the best. The only way we can do this is by growing so that we can expand our facilities to keep pace with the times."

The Thibault board has long felt the Sturgeon School Division should have centralized at Morinville, which is the geographic centre of the division.

It felt that the two systems could have worked side by side, sharing the costly educational facilities that at one time were like extras on automobiles but now are standard equipment in any up-to-date school system.

"Students are being bused to Edmonton from several points in the division, and from the north-west and west many go right past Morinville to school in St. Albert," says board member Louis Chalifoux. "They could just as easily bring them to Morinville and we could provide students from all over the division with complete facilities."

Thibault next term will accept students from grades 1 to 12 from anywhere in the division. There will be no tuition fee from the parents of divisional students.

"Parents need not fear for Thibault's standards," says board member Mrs. Anne Kryskow. "Last term Thibault's pass percentage of those with 50 percent or more was 76.1, compared with the provincial average of 60."

The Thibault board also offers room and board allowances for students taking training in approved vocational wings in Edmonton.
